

BIG NEWS! We have just received our first registration for the Frosh Boys group of 2015! Evan Matthew Stein, born October 24th at 11:25 AM is already looking forward to meeting everyone at Echo Lake this summer! Evan tilted the scales at 8 lbs 12 ozs and measured 20 1/2 inches. Mom and

Dad Stein are overjoyed with Evan's arrival and we can't wait to watch him grow up at Camp Echo Lake!!!

We also wanted to announce that from our birthday contest conducted at the end of camp, four campers picked Evan's correct birth date of October 24th ... Ali Chalfin, Lindsay Eller, Mikaela Norris and Andie Migden. The big winner was Ali, who was only three hours and eleven minutes off the actual arrival time; Lindsay, believe it or not, was off by three hours and twelve minutes! Ali's first place prize will be awarded at the NY reunion in December! (We might even have a second place price for Lindsay, since she was only one minute from a tie).

It is the fall, and again this year there is major alumni fever going around. On Friday, October 17th, Lauren Ostrin and Steve Solomon put together an alumni bash in New York City. Attendance was well over a hundred alums, spanning several decades of summers in Warrensburg!

It is the coolest thing when a simple exchange of e-mails or photos among alums turns into a great event attended by so many others who all share that common bond of having spent their camping days at Echo Lake!

Connections to Echo Laker new and old - and running into them when I least expect it - is always a highlight for me. To give you an idea of how many people I run into, I'll just mention those from the past few weeks ...

There were the Lutvak boys (Charles, Spencer and their dad Paul), as well as my old camper Eric Levin, who I saw at the Meadowlands for Brett Favre's debut as a Jet. Emily and I then ran into David and Shelley Katz, parents of Caroline, Danny and Jared, while out one night in NYC. Jenna and Jamie Shapiro live in the same 'hood as Emily and I do, so we see them walking around from time to time. And there was Mickey Shapiro, an Echo Lake alum who grew up at camp and ended up being a counselor as well. Saw him the other night as well! Every once in a while on my drive to work, I pass by Arielle Chaifetz's school and I give her a wave hello when I see her (I hope I am not embarrassing her in front of her friends). Emily and I also ran into big sister Sasha one day while we were walking around in Greenwich Village! Corie Weisblum, mom of Jakob and his younger sister Alexis (who will be attending CEL for the first time in 2009), was in the Big Apple celebrating a friend's birthday when Emily and

And a week or so ago, I even crashed a bowling party at Chelsea Piers, where I hung out with Ben Langer, Graham Kessel, Gavin Jablonski, Matthew Bernstein, Max Paull and Davis Haupt from last year's LJBE! So much FUN! I saw her last week.

Is there anything that brightens up your day like seeing an old friend or a new friend from camp? I just don't think so. What is so cool about it for me, is that depending on who it is, I can immediately be transported to the 60's, 70's, 80's, 90's, or 2000's. And sometimes seeing some really little ones, I think about the 2010's! Like who is going to be joining Evan Matthew Stein in the Frosh Boys of 2015?

Enjoy all of your camp connections - they are precious! Enjoy autumn and I can't wait to see all of you in December at our reunions.

Tony

The weather smells of football, the leaves are changing color and I spent the fall (thus far) being a "Helicopter Grandparent". This meant I was hovering waiting for the birth of Baby Stein. Was it a girl- an interesting idea for me. Could it be a boy? I am surely used to boys. Whatever it was I prayed that it would be healthy and come soon. Talk about a Main Event.....wow!

Needless to say, I totally knew that this baby would spend all summers at Camp Echo Lake. So I also knew for sure that the little one would automatically be happy, feel loved and certainly be well-adjusted. This goes without saying! Baby Stein would be so lucky to enjoy great friends, superb staff and the healthy ethic of Our Favorite Camp!

Then (drum roll please)......last Friday after what seemed like an extended wait....Baby Stein emerged - crying, squalling, kicking - a really active little BOY, yes a BOY, another little Stein BOY!!! It was all a surprise, really, because Tony and Emily decided that they didn't want to know the sex of Baby Stein. What self-control!

So it's Evan Matthew Stein the newest of the best and the brightest that populate this amazing camp! Welcome, Evan!

You have been eagerly waiting as you are our extended family who rejoices in each other's big deal events! This was and is a big deal! We're so happy to share and celebrate as that's what a good family does!

Much love to all of you, Grandma Amy

Laughter is the shock absorber that eases the blows of life. ~Unknown. It was a Friday night and I had only been home from camp for about a week. I was out with a friend wearing an outfit I really liked. There I stood in the median on 79th St in NYC, waiting for the green light when my friend said, "hey we should step back from that puddle." Not a split second after that sentence was out of his mouth, a very fast moving car drove through the gigantic puddle of recently deposited rain water mixed with street grime and doused me from head to toe. I looked like I had just gone swimming. I was soaked, dirty, and quite surprised. My friend and a few others on the street looked at me in horror waiting to see my reaction. I'm sure they anticipated anger, frustration, disgust, and maybe even tears. What came out from the depths of my soul was unstoppable laughter. Not just a chuckle mind you, but body shaking, uncontrollable, uproariously loud laughter. I'm not sure why I found it so funny as there are many other valid reactions when you are on your way out for the evening and get completed drenched with filthy water from the street, but there I was practically rolling on the ground in hysterics. I'm laughing out loud right now just thinking about it!

At the height of laughter, the universe is flung into a kaleidoscope of new possibilities. ~Jean Houston. Research has shown health benefits of laughter ranging from strengthening the immune system to reducing food cravings to increasing one's threshold for pain. There's even an emerging therapeutic field known as humor therapy to help people heal more quickly and find more happiness. Humor also has several important stress relieving benefits. Laughter reduces the level of stress hormones, increases the number of antibody-producing cells and enhances the effectiveness of T cells. Laughter provides a physical and emotional release. Not to mention that a good belly laugh exercises the diaphragm, contracts the abs and works out the shoulders, leaving muscles more relaxed. It even provides a good workout for the heart. Laughter creates distraction in difficult times, provides perspective in tricky situations, and has the magical effect of connecting us with others. On top of all of this, laughter feels good, uplifts your mood, and creates fun memories that you hold on to for life!

What soap is to the body, laughter is to the soul. ~Yiddish Proverb. Think about camp and your favorite summer memories. I would bet that most of these memories contain some laughter. Think about a time when you laughed so hard that your eyes watered, your abs hurt, and you felt like you could not stop laughing no matter what. I bet that felt amazing and positively affected how you felt all day. My question is, if laughter feels so great and impacts us so positively, wouldn't we want to find ways to increase the laughter in our lives?! Let me be clear, however, even laughter has a time and place. There are times when laughter is not appropriate and can even be offensive. Also, laughing AT someone (i.e. making fun of someone or making a person feel badly) is never ever fun, funny, or OK. That said, laughter can bring such joy to every one of us and help to turn a potentially upsetting situation into an opportunity to find perspective and to grow.

The most wasted of all days is one without laughter. ~E. E. Cummings. At camp, laughter seems to be a built in part of our daily schedule, from line ups to bunk time to silly things that campers and counselors do and say. Over the summer we embrace laughter as part of the camp magic and boy does that feel great! I encourage you to continue to embrace that magic all year long and find laughter in your life every single day. Share jokes, watch comedy, smile just for fun. Think about situations differently and don't be afraid to laugh at yourself. In those lucky moments when you find yourself laughing, don't censor yourself, let it rip! I think the world might be a little better if we all took more time to embrace laughter. Here's hoping that when you are standing on a street corner and unexpectedly get soaked, that you too will find a way to laugh out loud! A laugh is a smile that bursts. It is a spark to the soul. ~Mary Waldrip

Hugs and Kisses always, Laurie

The Village Voice

Hey everyone! It's been a while since I said "GOOD MORNING SENIOR VILLAGE!" I sometimes say it at home but Nelson is the only one who responds. It takes a while to adjust back to "the real world". I guess it's taking me a bit longer than normal!

So, I hope everyone is enjoying this wonderful fall weather. It may be difficult watching it through a classroom window or perhaps an office window. I've been busy on the weekends apple picking, making pies, and going on fall foliage trips...O.K., I'll be honest, I spend most of my time sitting on my couch taking in as much football as possible! I usually have a good cry after I watch my Browns play on Sunday. It's sad I know....

Have you guys had a chance to flip through the Trail and look back at all the great times we had up in Warrensburg? It brings back lots of great memories for me. Things around here have been quiet compared to camp but that will soon change again as the summer gets closer. I can't wait to see you all at the Reunion!

In addition to passion for Fuzzies, Tribal, and Big Al, this summer the Echo Lake community added major passion and excitement for GOING GREEN! Here's a quick fact: Just by using recyclable red baskets instead of using Styrofoam plates at lunch this past summer we saved over 30,450 Styrofoam plates from ending up in a land fill! WOW!!! Reducing the use of Styrofoam products was just one of the many steps that the campers and staff took towards making Echo

By successfully adding motion detector lights in common areas, reducing garbage, and recycling paper/office materials, cans, and bottles, we made simple changes that had a large impact on the planet and all of us at camp. The 2008 LIT's did an amazing job of not only collecting soda cans (the deposit money benefited the Echo Lake Idea) but also inspiring all of the campers to be more aware of environmental issues and the ways they can make a positive change in their behavior for the good of the planet. Forget Mohawk or Iroquois, everyone wins when we go green!

Another successful "green" initiative was asking our camp families to donate books so we could create an Echo Lake library. Again the 2008 LIT's stepped up to the challenge and put together the first annual camper named "Fuzzy Wuzzy Library." Campers were able to utilize a growing collection of books, magazines, and fun resources. The LIT's helped to reuse donated books, shelves, and furniture to create a fun place for campers to read and enjoy.

Thanks again to all of our 2008 LIT's, campers, and staff for all the hard work and dedication o such a great cause as going green. Remember to find ways to continue to reduce, reuse, and recycle at home and school and hold on to your recyclables because we plan on adding even more green initiatives to camp for summer 2009!!!

*Alumni...turn to page 14 for pictures & a recap of the Oct. 17 CEL Alumni Reunion in NYC! Don't miss it!

Spanning the World

I wanted to update you on a get together I had with the English ladies from summer 05. This was our first reunion since we were all at camp together and it was fantastic. The spirit of camp was very much on our lips because we all have such amazing memories that bind us together. We reminisced about the love, fun and amazing people that touched our lives. Camp is such a special place to have that effect on thousands of people all over the world. –Katy Akinson

I was working as an Art Specialist in 1998. I have repeatedly recounted that summer as one of the best summers of my life as it was an amazing and rewarding experience as much for the counselors as I believe it is for the campers. I walked away from that summer having gained life-long friends and memories to carry with me for just as long." - Cortney Van Jahnke

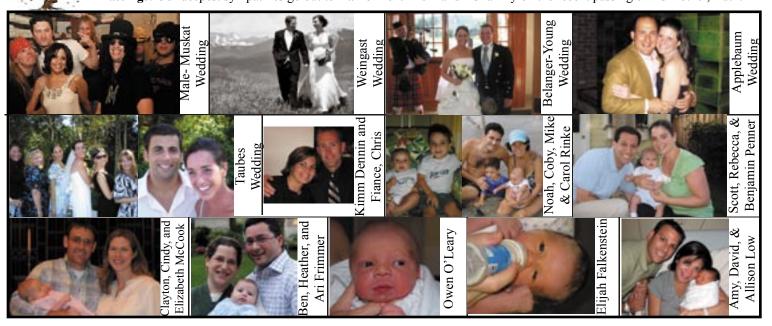

Andi Saxe Castillo and Andee Springer Bassel, Echo Lake alums from the 60's and early 70's reunited at CEL this summer having not seen each other for more than 25 years! They toured camp with their husbands and Andi Castillo's daughter in tow. They loved seeing the "old" camp they remembered along with newer buildings and the swimming pools, finding old bunk and tribal plaques, and visiting with Amy Stein and other staff members. Talk about "Memories of Echo...." Glenn Begley made an appearance too and filled them in on former campers they all knew and all the changes made to camp since they were there. A GREAT time was had by all and both Andreas highly recommend a similar walk down memory lane to any alums that haven't visited Echo Lake in a while. -Andrea Saxe Castillo (a Mohawk through and through!)

An alumnus, Craig Ostrin, is a sophomore at Washington University in St. Louis where the first US Presidential debate was held this year. Craig wrote two articles relating to the debate that were published in Wash U's student newspaper, "Student Life." Nice job, Craig!

A lovely dinner dance was held at The Lodge, CEL's off-season banquet hall located at the Senior Village, in honor of Ken and Claire Demas on August 24. Ken and Claire, yet another wonderful WE-MET-AT-CAMP-COUPLE now live in Wevertown, NY just up the road from Warrensburg. The dinner was for no good reason except that they felt like celebrating! Echo Lake alumni at the event were Corey and Colin Demas, Linda and Jason Quitoni, Vicki Kaunitz, Campbell and Henry Campbell, and Amy Medine Stein. Our very talented kitchen stuff outdid themselves in the food department!

Nanci Levi Hellinger visited with Ivy Ostrin Delaney and had a great time! Lauren Ostrin joined the group as well as, kids Ruby & Rowen Delaney and Matthew & Scott Hellinger.

Passings: Our deepest sympathies go out to Daniel Zezulinski and his family on the recent passing of his mother, Ruth.

2008 at Project Morry

2008 was yet another remarkable year for Project Morry! The kids at Project Morry are asked to be a part of a community, to be a part of a team. That means that they must be responsible not only to self but also to those around them. Summer 2008 once again allowed our kids to show us through their actions that they ARE learning. We watched as through their efforts they exemplified the importance of patience, cooperation, organization, time management and commitment. They took risks with their newfound strengths. They climbed 70' towers, trusted swim instructors to support them as they floated on their backs for a first time, waited patiently for their name to be called during an activity, read a poem at a campfire, slept with no lights on, tried a food that they had never eaten before, wrote fuzzies and led by both their actions and words. We have already begun our school year program in all 6 of our community based locations and suffice it to say the kids are continuing to exemplify ALL those new found strengths. A continued thank you to all who continue to believe, support and hope!

Echo Lake's 2008 Swimathon & Marathon for Project Morry

We are so thrilled that Echo Lake parents have once again stepped up HUGE to the plate this year to support all of our campers in our swimathon and marathon!

The swimathon and marathon day was a wonderful and well-run event led by our 2008 LIT's. In between some clouds, we got in a terrific run and a refreshing swim – all for a terrific cause!

As of this writing, Echo Lake Parents have contributed over $16,000 to Project Morry. Together, the 36 camps that participate in the Camps That Give Program remain an integral part of Project Morry's annual fundraising efforts. This year, the camps have raised over $225,000! That is AMAZING. And even more amazing is that these funds allow young people, who would otherwise not have the chance, to participate in a year-round program like Project Morry!

THANK YOU, THANK YOU, THANK YOU!!!!

The Echo Lake Idea 2008

This past August marked the 39th Anniversary of the Echo Lake Idea program, the original inspiration behind Project Morry. Over their 30+ years in camping, Morry Stein & Amy Medine Stein came to realize the indelible impact camping has on children. In 1970, Morry and Amy established the Echo Lake Idea, a weeklong scholarship camping program for disadvantaged children. The "Idea" was then, and remains today, one of the first programs of its kind in the United States sponsored by a private camp. The Idea, has served well over 2,200 children during its 39-year history and has recieved awards of recognition form the American Camp Association.

The Idea 2008 was nothing short of a superb tribute to the 39-year history of this amazing program. 60 Idea campers swam in the pools, slept in the bunks, ran on the fields, performed on stage, and even went to Lake George's Skateland for a fantastic evening of roller skating! By the end of the week the Idea program had a tremendous impact on the campers who celebrated their success with fuzzies, campfire songs, and Idea wish candles on Echo Lake. You can even view an incredible video and some fantastic photos from the Idea week online at www.campecholake.com in the "Summer Website" section!

Much of the success of the Idea program is due to the abundance of energy and generosity of spirit of the staff that volunteer to work with the children during the Idea week. This year, Laurie Rinke, Echo Lake Idea Director, was truly blessed to have the magic of Patrick McNeece to assist in all aspects of creating a GREAT IDEA! Patrick is a genius, lifesaver, and one of the most insightful people Laurie has ever worked with! Alongside Laurie and Patrick were the very passionate staff whose heart and soul for working with children made it impossible to tell that they were volunteering for the Idea after a full summer of working at camp! Laurie, Patrick, and the Idea campers truly worship you!

A BIG thank you and MANY fuzzies to our volunteer staff....Patrick McNeece, Terry Begly, Glenn Begly, Joanne Dutcher, Sharifa Vinson, Annabel Smith, Matt Evans, Laura Ostler, Mark Kenny, Barry "Badger" Holleway, Ruth Kleinman, Kari Chambers, Kirsty Foyle, Fiona Turnbull, Caroline Clayton, Kat DeOcampo, Kim Dews, Kara Munsey, Carla Ammons, Brit Bajc, Janna Fraser, Danielle Gori, Darrren Dhesi, Adam Haynes, Matt Offen, Chris Taylor, Brad McGlaughn, Neil Vinson, Jon Mattock, Nick Wolf, Kris Kauff, Drew Vinson, Winston Badio, Sergio Arenas, and Providence David; PLUS CEL alumni, Eric Kronenberger and Chris Jones, brother of Janna, Blair Fraser, and all the way from Camp Iroquois Springs, Jon Korevec, Katie Greene, Ben Simon, and Matt Wilkins.

Thank you to all of the 2008 Idea campers and staff for making the Idea truly outstanding! We can't wait to see all you Idea campers and staff in 2009...our 40th Anniversary year!

 AT HOME DO - IT - YOURSELF ACTIVITY AREAS

Hi ya campers!

I was trying to think of an easy idea for you to keep you crafting/art skills up until next summer. These cute paper bag pumpkins are perfect for table decorations for Halloween or Thanksgiving or, if filled with candy, a great party treat bag. They are easy to make with simple supplies.

What you'll need:

- . 1 brown paper lunch bag
- . Acrylic paint: orange and leaf green
- . Paintbrush
- . ½ sheet brown construction paper
- 6- 12" pieces of green raffia
- . Scissors

How to make it:

.Paint the outside of the lunch bag with orange paint.

.Paint the inside, top portion of the bag with leaf green paint.

.Paint a second coat of orange paint on the bag, only this time, paint the top outside portion with the leaf green-colored paint.

.When paint is completely dry, fringe the green section of the bag with your scissors, strips should be approximately ½" – 1" wide.

.Fill bag with crumpled newspaper (if using as a decoration) or candy and treats.

.Gather top of bag with your hand and tie a piece of raffia around it, just below the green section.

.Continue tying pieces of green raffia around the neck of the bag until all of it has been used.

.Cut a 1.5" wide strip of brown construction paper and roll up into a tube. Insert the tube of paper into the center of the green portion of the bag as the stem. If these bags are used as decoration, you can glue the stem in place.

Tips:

FUN WITH FINE ARTS!!!!

.To reuse these decorations at Halloween, add faces as jack-o'-lanterns by gluing on yellow construction paper facial features.

.If using these as party bags, you may want to grab all raffia pieces together and tie them into one knot to make them easier to remove rather than ripping the bag open.

-To give the bags some weight, especially if they will be displayed outside, add a cup of sand or clean cat litter to the bottom of the bag before adding the crumpled newspaper.

Have a great time and I look forward to seeing you all soon. Love and hugs,

Strategic game decisions are skills that need to be practiced as much as the skills those decisions are used with. Practicing the decisions that often go along with using those skills is different, but that doesn't mean it has to be harder. Here's a great list of 9 Baserunning Basics that will help give you clues as a baserunner!

These rules can be practiced during batting practice by putting runners on base as one of the batting practice stations. Each player needs a copy of the rules, they need to have them explained, and they need to practice them a lot.

6 ESSENTIAL BASERUNNING RULES:

- 1. On Groundballs: -Must Go If Runner Behind You. -Go if ball hit behind you.
- 2. On Flyballs: -Ball in air behind you-Tag Up. -Ball in air in front of you-Go Far Enough To Get Back If the Ball is Caught.
- 3. On Basehits: -If in the Outfield, Go to Next Base. -If to the Outfield in a Gap, Run to Spot for Circle Path Around Bases & pick up 3rd Base Coach.
- 4. On Foulballs: -Tag On All Fouls.
- 5. If You Hesitate Go Back!
- 6. At 3rd Base: -Lead off at least 1 foot foul. -Ball hit in air-tag immediately pick up the ball be ready to go on touch! -Ball hit on the ground, hold position and if the ball goes through the infield you score.

Once the Baserunning Rules have been learned and practiced another important element is learning When to Steal, When to Take Chances, and When NOT to Take Chances. Making copies of these Strategy Basics, and thoroughly understanding each one, in addition to practicing these will go a LONG way to helping you as a baserunners make the right decisions and take the right chances at the right times!

STRATEGY BASICS:

7.When To Steal: -Early & often if their team has a dominant pitcher and your chances to score against her are slim. -Against a pitcher who pouts and reacts a lot. -Against a dropball pitcher (since this is the hardest pitch for a catcher to throw from). -Against a catcher that likes to go down on her knees a lot. -Against a shortstop that's slow. -Against a middle infield that has to split their coverage against a slapper (meaning the SS goes toward 3rd base and the 2nd baseman moves toward 1st. That doesn't leave anyone covering 2nd). -Against a SS that plays a slapper in front of the baseline and the 3rd baseman has moved in in case of the bunt (great opportunity to steal 3rd since nobody is in position to cover 3rd)

8. When To Take Chances: -When your team is playing a pitcher that is awesome and your chances of scoring are slim! -When the batter's coming up don't have much of a chance of hitting you in. -When it's early in the game (1st-4th inning).

9. When NOT To Take Chances: -When your team is hitting their pitcher really well. -When the batters coming up are hitting really well. -When there are less than 2 outs and your chance of scoring is pretty good. -When you're the tying or winning run and it's the 6th or 7th inning.

While there are always exceptions to rules, if the players can learn these rules and strategy basics it will really help them make the correct decisions when the game is on the line and they have a split-second to decide whether they should stay where they are or take a chance advancing to the next base or two.

Enjoy and Have a great year. Wendi Acey, Softball Head Specialist

AT HOME DO - IT - YOURSELF ACTIVITY A Deep thoughts from the 2008 Trek Staff: Welcome back to Cooking! I sure

The summer is gone, fall is here, and winter is on its way! It's super difficult for all you campers to go outdoors and recreate your TREK trips from this summer... unless of course you climb a building, go swimming in some cold water, or go out and walk ten miles down a busy road (none of these are recommended).

However there are a few things you could do during this time to share the Trekkie spirit!

1. Step out of your comfort zone and into your stretch zone. On each Trek trip you took with us this summer, campers challenged themselves in some way. Maybe you walked longer, climbed higher, paddled further, crawled deeper, or tried something that you normally wouldn't have done. You don't need to be at camp with the Trekkies to do this... Find some way at home to 'stretch' yourselves and you will learn more about yourselves than you could imagine. (We do not recommend playing 'Cougar Run' near busy roads.)

TREK!!!!

ERIFFIC

- 2. Enjoy the natural environment around you. You don't need the Adirondack Mountains and the woods to appreciate nature. Go outside and experience and respect the environment in which you live. This means more than getting the mail... (even though that is acceptable).
- 3. Share what you learned with your friends and family. Not everyone has learned about the things you've experienced this past summer. What do you know about forest animals? How do you build a shelter? How do you start a fire? How do I survive a night in a tent in the woods? We encourage you to share your experiences with others... the more you share the more you have learned. (We do not recommend starting fires unless it is in a safe place with adult supervision.)

Just remember, Trekkies always focus on safety so make sure you do the same so we all can continue our journey next summer!

do miss all of you in my kitchen! I know you must miss me too, so here's a new recipe that you can try at home. I don't want any of you to forget how to "beat and whisk", so go prepare all these ingredients on your counter, get ready to have F-U-N and eat something yummy!

During September, Rosh Hashanah (the Jewish New Year) was celebrated; apples are dipped in honey and eaten to signify having a sweet and healthy year. I wish that to you and your families. Apples are at their most abundant and delicious this time of the year, so this recipe has them. These muffins are great for breakfast or as a snack after school.

APPLE RAISIN MUFFINS

3/4 cup vegetable oil 3/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon

1 cup sugar ½ teaspoon salt 2 eggs 1½ cups diced apples 1 teaspoon vanilla ½ cup raisins

2 cups flour ½ cup chopped walnuts

3/4 teaspoon baking soda

Note: Since I don't like walnuts or raisins in my baked goods, I omit them. That's okay if you want to too! Trust me, they still taste G-R-E-A-T without them!

Preheat oven to 400°F. Grease a twelve muffin cup tray or use paper liners. In a large bowl, beat oil and sugar with electric mixer for 2 minutes. Add eggs and vanilla; beat 1 minute. In another bowl, stir together flour, baking soda, cinnamon, and salt. Add dry ingredients to oil mixture; stir just to combine. Stir in apples, raisins, and walnuts. Spoon batter into prepared muffin cups; bake 20-25 minutes or until a cake tester inserted in center of one muffin comes out clean. Remove muffin tin or tins to wire rack. Cool 5 minutes before removing muffins from cups; finish cooling on rack. Serve warm or cool completely and store in an airtight container at room temperature. These muffins freeze well.

Renee's Kitchen Tips: Apples aren't just for eating! To prevent brown sugar from hardening, place an apple slice in the brown sugar bag; seal. The next day the sugar should be soft and slightly moist.

Snapple Fact #109: Smelling apples and/or bananas can help you lose weight.

Reminder: Check out all the recipes on the CEL "Summer Website". Have any cooking/baking questions? E-mail rpearl@videotron.ca - I'll do my best to help you out!

CEL Alumni Reunion 2008

It was a rip-roaring CEL alumni reunion that took place Friday october 17 at Social on 8th Ave and 48th Street. Many folks were culled via facebook. The love, bonding, memories, camp songs piped in through speakers and a slide show viewing from every corner of the room was something extraordinary. I loved "my camp friends mean so much more to me than the camp friends of my friends who went to other camps!" Wow, are we not surprised!

Kudos go to Lauren Ostrin and Steve Solomon (Board Member from Project Morry) who did a fabulous and creative job of pulling everyone together. I'm already licking my chops about the next year's version of this amazing wing-ding. It will be bigger, for sure, but it certainly can't be better!

For this director reconnecting with so many fabulous former campers who populated CEL during the 30 years that Morry and I directed camp was a dream come true. The love and joy in that room was beyond belief!
